

Title of Study: Ethical Dilemmas in Companion Animal Veterinary Medicine: Mental Health Implications

Participants are being sought to take part in a doctoral research study conducted by Bronwyn Dickson, PhD (candidate) from the Faculty of Social Work, Wilfrid Laurier University. This study has been approved by Wilfrid Laurier University's Research Ethics Board (6831).

This study is directed at companion animal veterinarians who have been practicing for at least 3-years and are currently practicing in Canada.

The purpose of this study is to understand how companion animal veterinarians perceive and experience ethical dilemmas in practice. Participants in this study will meet with the researcher virtually at an agreed-upon time to answer questions about ethical dilemmas in veterinary medicine. The interview will last approximately 60-90 minutes and will be audio recorded.

If you would like to learn more about the study or volunteer to participate, please contact the researcher, Bronwyn Dickson, PhD candidate, at bron0234@mylaurier.ca
